

PHD COURSE: HOW TO GET PUBLISHED

The four Graduate Schools at Aarhus University are hosting a joint PhD course focusing on aspects of the publication process. The course will bring together PhD students from all disciplines.

Outcomes

- Get an introduction to publishing strategies
- Think about publishing in a career perspective
- Understand how the peer-review system works
- Develop a better understanding of how to write your own abstract

Aim of the Course

The aim of this course is to make the participants aware of how to develop effective writing strategies to target different readerships within academic publishing. Furthermore, the participants will be introduced to how to think strategically about publication. This aim will be targeted through a focus on abstract writing during the afternoon workshop. Course programme will be available in September.

Speakers: Professor Helena Skyt Nielsen, Department of Economics and Business Economics, AU, Professor Poul Nissen, Department of Molecular Biology and Genetics - DANDRITE, Professor Bobby Zachariae, Department of Psychology and Behavioral Sciences and Department of Clinical Medicine, Vice dean Lise Wogensen Bach, Health, Stacey Cozart, Centre for Teaching Development and Digital Media, ARTS, Associate professor Berit Lassen, Centre for Teaching and Learning, Aarhus BSS.

Target Group

PhD students from all disciplines. Participants must have completed or nearly completed data collection and started analyzing data with the aim of publishing the results in an international scientific journal with peer review.

Time: The course will take place on 29. November 2018, 9.00 am – 15.30 pm. Aarhus Universitet, Studenterhusfonden, Frederiks Nielsens vej 4, meeting room 2.

Registration:

Deadline for applying: 19 October 2018.

Registration is required via web shop: Registration opens in September 2018