GENERAL SERVICES

Practical assistance
NCI assists researchers in practical matters related to their travel to India and research requirements that includes assistance with the visa, FRRO regulations, practical issues, finding partners in India for research affiliations, and in networking. NCI’s India office aims to provide qualitative support to all member university researchers in India to the best possible extent.

Residence in New Delhi
NCI also has a residence in Delhi that has been acting as a gateway for researchers working in India. Located in a green and upscale area in New Delhi, the residence is centrally located and is easily accessible. Visitors get the practical assistance necessary for their stay in India and also get housekeeping services and the services of a cook. Not only is the residence a great place to stay in a cost effective fashion, it is also a good place to network, host meetings and academic events.
